MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

MUNICIPALITY OF MURFREESBORO, EXTRAORDINARY VACANCY.

Notice is hereby given that nominations to fill the Extraordinary Vacancy in the above council, caused by the death of H. C. Seale, will be received up to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, the 12th December, 1910, and must be in the hands of the Returning Officer by that time.

Nominations will be declared on Wednesday, the 13th December, 1910 (communion day), at noon, at the Council-chambers.

Each candidate must be proposed in or to the effect of the form prescribed by the ordinance, and the nomination paper shall be signed by at least two electors of the municipality, who are qualified to vote, and contain the consent of the candidate to be nominated, signing the premises for witnesses.

Nominations forms may be obtained on application to the Town Clerk.

In the event more than one nomination being received, a poll will be taken at the Council-chambers, commencing on the 12th December, 1910, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

brought the War Precautions Act into operation. It could make a law to cut coal it would get over the strike.

Mr. Carroll (Wentworth) observed that the Prime Minister had told the delegates that the War Precautions Act would be used to cut coal. It seemed very strange that the Prime Minister should have given the delegates the impression that the War Precautions Act would be used to cut coal. It seemed very strange that the Prime Minister should have given the delegates the impression that the War Precautions Act would be used to cut coal.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday. The Navy Department is taking every precaution to ensure the coal stocks on hand to last until further supplies are cut by the miners.

Despite the promises made to the Prime Minister by the miners' representatives at the conference, the Navy Department is still not able to secure the delivery of coal from the mines. The Navy Department is still not able to secure the delivery of coal from the mines.

house, and have all facilities given them for recreation. When Chinese were brought to the Transvaal gold mines at the end of the Anglo-Boer war these conditions of restraint were insisted upon. Surely the white miners are entitled, at least, to a measure of treatment? Australian miners as a whole are among the most intelligent, industrious, law-abiding, and loyal subjects in the world. It is their misfortune that they are not adequately represented in the State and Federal Parliaments. The men whose duty it should be to induce the Government to consider the welfare of the Chinese miners, and to secure for them the same rights and privileges as the white miners, are not to be found in the House of Representatives. The Government is not to be found in the House of Representatives.

THE PUBLIC WITH THE STRIKERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD. Sir, Mr. Brennan and others of his side are flatter themselves that the public are with the strikers. The public are not with the strikers.

Now, whether the majority of the public sympathise with the demand of the miners for their own special interpretation of the right to work, or whether they sympathise with the demand of the public for the right to work, is a matter which is not for the public to decide.

Mr. Brennan may be assured that the great majority of the public are utterly disgusted with the tactics of the strikers. The public are utterly disgusted with the tactics of the strikers.

And also with those sections of the miners who are in the wrong. The public are also with those sections of the miners who are in the wrong.

It is not enough that there is a considerable proportion of the miners who have voted in favour of the strike. It is not enough that there is a considerable proportion of the miners who have voted in favour of the strike.

Mr. Brennan may be further assured that there is a deep and widespread sense of indignation against the strikers, and especially against their leaders. The public are deeply and widely indignant against the strikers.

And the position of the strikers in view of the existing legal provision for a settlement of such disputes, is, in fact, a position of weakness. The strikers are in a position of weakness.

It is cowardly and disloyal, and in relation to the welfare of all who are dependent upon the coal supply, to insist that the public are with the strikers. The public are not with the strikers.

It is well if Mr. Brennan and those with him would study one of the world's greatest leaders, Mr. Winston Churchill. The public are well if Mr. Brennan and those with him would study one of the world's greatest leaders.
